Hi Susan,

re: Claire's final question on to whom we should address the letter, the final we would make to the current version, assuming it doesn't mess too much with a preferred format, would be to have it address to the entire group, in care of Bobby/WP. In this case, the address block would look something like this (the underlining is not intentional, I just can't seem to make it go away):

Pacific Northwest Interagency Working Group on Water Quality Trading

In Care of: Bobby Cochran

Willamette Partnership

4640 SW Macadam Ave #50

Portland, OR 97239

And the rest of the letter would remain the same.

Does that work? Please let me know if there is any other help or information we can provide.

Carrie

Mark,

To give you an idea of what this announcement from Willamette Partnership might be, here's the first draft from them with my edits inserted. I'm also attaching the letter we've put together, minus the final formatting, that Susan Poulson will be in charge of - working with Bella to get Dan's signature once we get the go-ahead from Willamette Partnership, and sending it out. The projected announcement date is June 30.

Carrie Sanneman at Willamette Partnership is your POC on this if you have more questions. I copied her on this message, in case she wants to reach out to you before then to talk about any press-related opportunities.

I'm not sure how big a splash WP & The Freshwater Trust (TFT) are intending to make – it's a complicated topic and the draft regional recommendations only suggestions for the states to consider when designing their own programs. Yet, it's an important first step in strengthening water quality trading concepts that will lead to better implementation. Also, it is precedent-setting for a similar national effort WP and TFT are involved with (and that's not led by EPA either but Bob Rose in OW the EPA rep to those meetings).
